"The importance of the timely receipt of accurate intelligence concerning each Chinese Communist Army capable of intervening in the battle now in progress, is vital to the success of our operations. It continues to constitute the essential elements of enemy information, communicated to you in my secret radio of 091830I Feb. Participation in the present enemy operation of one or more fresh armies in addition to those in contact might alter materially my current situation and could compel abandonment of presently planned counter-offensive and resumption of defensive operations. I would be grateful for all additional relevent intelligence, with your evaluation thereof, at the earliest possible hour."
